The Class of June '55 presents...

THE ATHENAEUM

BARRINGER HIGH SCHOOL

NEWARK
NEW JERSEY

IN MEMORIAM

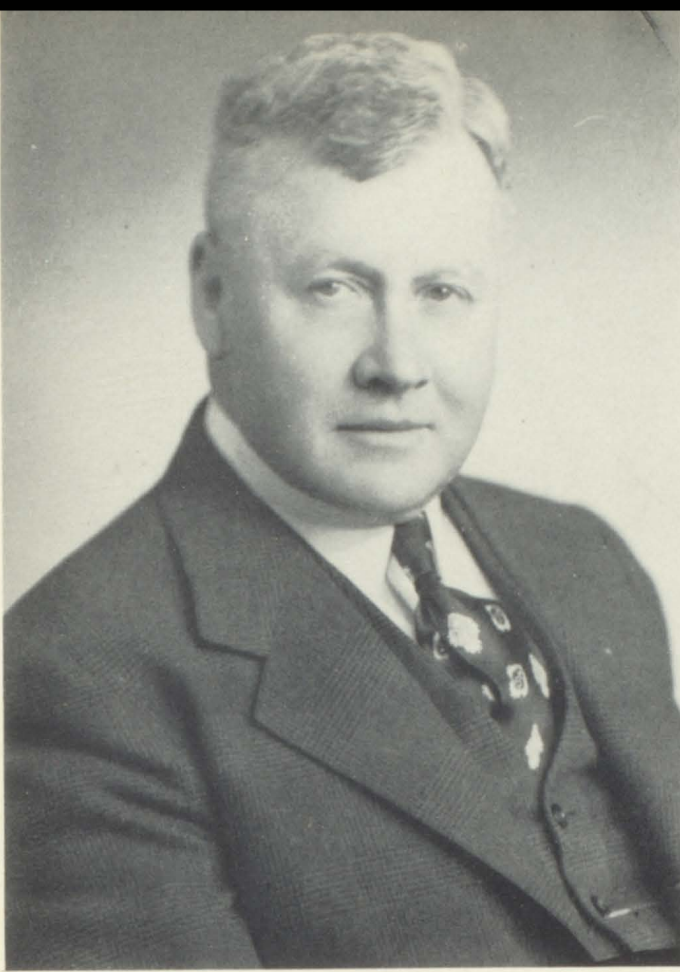

Dolores Mariniello

The happy memory of Dolores will stay with us through all the voyage of our lives. Her high spirit, exuberance, and unique friendliness were to us warm, glowing beacons.

Joseph Hopkins

As the sea is sometimes calm, so we often find in life a gentle and serene nature. Joe had such a personality, and so we will remember him through the years as a good friend who would always soothe our spirits when we were ruffled by trivialities.

Dr. Roger B. Saylor

PRINCIPAL

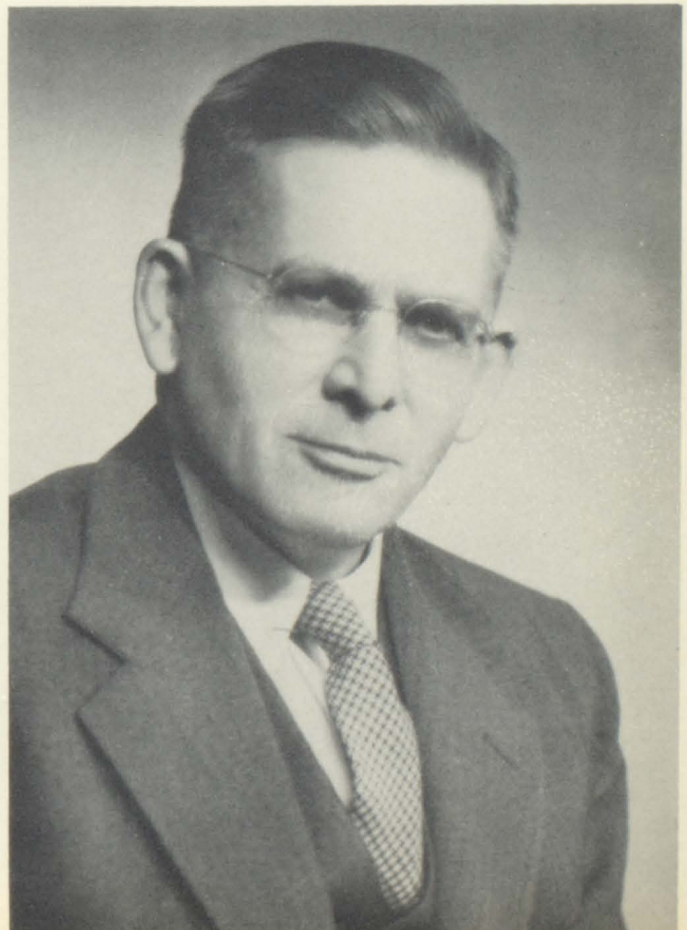

Water has been one of man's best friends ever since God created this wonderful earth of ours. It has been both a friend and a challenge to man. Those sailing the uncharted seas in the past needed all the courage, faith and knowledge they could summon. Today we are studying the hidden mysteries found in the great depths of the sea. Men of science are going deep into oceans to learn Nature's hidden secrets. These same qualities, the great faith and the desire to solve the problems of life, are the attributes which we hope every Barringer pupil will develop to the best of his ability.

Mr. Ephraim Eisenberg

VICE PRINCIPAL

*"The sea moves always, the wind moves always.
They want and want and there is no end to their wanting.
What they sing is the song of the people.
Man will never arrive, man will be always on the way.
It is written he shall rest but never for long.
The sea and the wind tell him he shall be lonely, meet love,
Be shaken with struggle, and go on wanting."*

You wanted a high school diploma; and you have attained that goal. Congratulations to you! But this is no point at which to rest for long. Like the sea and the wind you must keep on moving. Not, however, just moving; but on toward newer goals. The kinds of things you want are a sure index to the kind of person you are. Review your wants; revise them; but keep on wanting. When you stop wanting, you stop growing. May you always have wants in view toward the attainment of which you constantly strive; and may these wants be such as to promote your personal welfare and growth, and at the same time be of benefit to your fellow-men. Good wanting to you!

Dedication

Age after age the sea has left its everlasting impression upon the face of the earth.

Likewise, each graduating class leaves its imprint upon the face of posterity. As we are about to embark on the sea of life we realize that we are only a small part of a large society.

An important part of any education is to find one's place in that society. We hope that we will be able to steer our careers safely through the shoals and reefs of false decisions and eventually reach our port safely. If our voyages are ever to reach safe harbors much credit will be due to the trustworthy beacons of love, understanding, and guidance as symbolized by our parents' affections and Barringer's standards of truth, honor,
and light.

Farewell Address

The cap and gown exchange is an old tradition at Barringer. During Award Assembly, after outstanding students receive the coveted awards, the graduating class president turns over the symbols of his office to the incoming president and summarizes his class's contributions for the school. Nick Visco leaves a pleasant memory as our president.

F E A T U R E S

Class

FRESHMAN YEAR

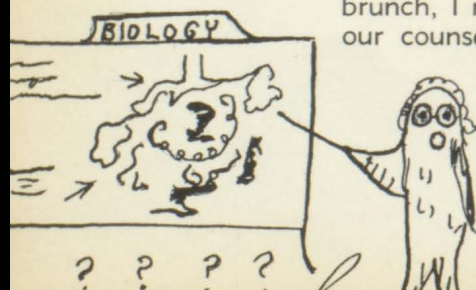

It was a brisk breeze that greeted our green-tinged faces as we trudged up Parker Street toward the school that would eventually hold so many wonderful memories for us — our beloved Barringer. We were surprised (and slightly relieved) to see so many familiar faces; we thought we'd left all our grammar school friends behind, but we knew that it would be another four years filled with the same happy memories of Childhood Days. They finally opened the doors (we were really cold by that time!) and upon entering the auditorium, we were greeted by the robust figure of our priceless "Doc" Saylor. The jobs of finding our homeroom and trying to understand our schedule card were bestowed on us along with tickets for the "Pink Elevator" from the high and mighty seniors. Next we were introduced to the intricacies of "higher mathematics" algebra to you!) and we even amazed ourselves with those high marks! Can we ever forget that Latin class and the free candy Madame Carleu rewarded us with when our homework was correct? And then we recall a certain English class where we met "The Virginian." Now there was a book (?) And how about Mr. Vogel's "Occupational Placement" tests? But there were sad times for us, too. We were heartbroken when Mrs. Cappel of our Homeroom 35 passed away. To all who knew her, she has been remembered as a wonderful person. And we shall always think of her throughout the coming years. Our sorrow was eased by Mr. Hartman's terrific algebra class. We certainly enjoyed our little routine of hustle, bustle, and fun. Yes, with all the searching for rooms, with all the complaints from the all-girl Homeroom 273, and with all the arguments with seniors in the Student Council, we enjoyed Freshman Year to the fullest.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

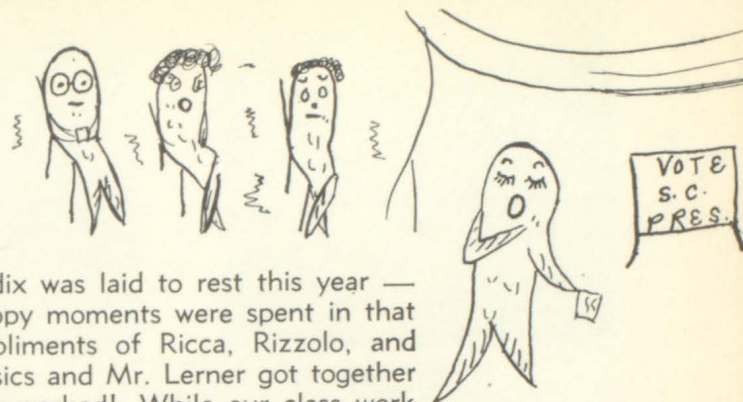

We came back fully tanned (more likely sunburned!) from the First Avenue sun and we were somewhat slow in re-adjusting to life at B.H.S. But it wasn't too hard because the new "crew" of Websterites kept us in stitches telling all the crazy things that had happened to them. Moreover, we now met up with the science of Biology. Here we learned why girls love boys and not other girls. (We really didn't need Dr. Weckstein to tell us that! Give us some credit!) This year saw Tommy Forcella start on a career in football that culminated with his appointment to the All-County Team. Do we all remember "Cherchez La Femme" or "There's Always a Dame"? And how about the Girls' Bowling Team? Weren't our averages a scream? But this year, too, was marred by sorrow. Our teacher and counselor, Mrs. Stewart, passed on and two of our classmates, Dolores Marinello and Joe "Buddy" Hopkins, were mourned by the school. We were all deprived of Mrs. Stewart's expert counseling, the warm and friendly smile "De" always had for us, and "Buddy's" unfailing wit which cheered many a dull class. They, too, are remembered and loved. Howard and Anne, respectively, were elected Treasurer and Recording Secretary of the Student Council, while Mary Jo and Diane were becoming permanent mainstays in the Acropolis office. The Class of June, 1955 was coming into its own.

JUNIOR YEAR

The school became alive again and we were glad because our summer was a bit disappointing. For one thing, our summer residence "Sunnyfield" had become private; we tried horseback riding but we were thrown so many times that we soon called it quits! And now, we were upperclassmen; not that it made us important or anything, but it sounded good! This term we had the rare privilege of being assigned fourth period brunch, I mean lunch! We were indeed fortunate when Mr. Restaino was selected as our counselor. His down-to-earth nature and witty comments, added to his capable counseling, made him dear to us. Mr. Thomas's appendix was laid to rest this year — along with any trace of former high marks! Many happy moments were spent in that class . . . Remember our own "Crime of '76," compliments of Ricca, Rizzolo, and Natale? But our joy soon turned to sorrow when Physics and Mr. Lerner got together — not one experiment worked the first time, if it ever worked! While our class work continued (?), our extra-curricular activities progressed, too. Rozz was chosen to lead our twirlers, our own Sandy and Geneva among them, and Johnny, Ernie, and Bobby were scoring like mad for the Basketball Team. The climax to a great year was the acquiring of our coveted class rings. We developed acute "see-my-ring-itis" and we treasured every glance our lovely rings received. We somehow managed to get through that year (by a slight miracle!) and we left school with a feeling of anticipation surging through our crazy, mixed-up bodies!

History

SENIOR YEAR

We arrived at our 4B spot somewhat awed at the fleeting of time—four years gone so soon? But ah, the memories. This year we really went like wild fire. With Mr. Allen as our adviser, we elected Nick, Mike, Janis, and Anne as our Class Officers. Hedy wrote in "Barney" that the 4B class was taking over the school and right she was! Marsha, Pia, Anne, Howard, and Danny were the officers in the Student Council, while Mary Jo, Marsha, Hedy, Diane, Barbara, Bette, Marion, and Vickie were practically the Acropolis staff. Eight of the sixteen cheerleaders were our girls Doris, Hedy, Mary Jo, Liz, Chris, Edie, Rae, and Jean and they did a swell job of cheering our boys Tommy, Mike M., Mike C., Jettie, Bob, Billy, Tony, and Vinnie on to many gridiron victories. This was the year when we gave "Joe College" a run for the money, what with our white bucks, man-tailored shirts, and Bermudas. And it was a year when your cigarette just had to be filtered or it wasn't doing for you what a good cigarette should do! We almost busted our buttons with pride when we found out that so many of our classmates had been elected to the National Honor Society and that Johnny and Pat were leading the "Blue Jackets." In the middle of all this, Mr. Restaino was recalled to the Air Force and Mr. Thomas was transferred to another school. Tragedy struck us again as our beloved Mr. Hartman passed away . . . Then came the 4B-4A basketball game, which we lost only because we were so tired out from school work! But we wouldn't let these things stop us! To compensate for these losses, we sponsored the best dance ever, the 4B "Snowball" and along with it, went that crazy skit in which Eddie, Alice, Tom and Anne starred (?). And speaking of skits, how about the cute "girls" in the Student Council skit? That dance saw Tommy win the title of "Mr. Football" for 1954, and that gave us something else to be proud of in Senior Year. By the time we became 4A's, everybody knew of our famous class and it was no wonder that our second dance, "The Cherry Blossom Swing," was the huge success we had planned it to be. And in the true tradition of 4A's, we won the 4B-4A basketball game. While all this was going on, many of us could be heard asking any or all of the following: "Buy a Magazine Subscription?" "Buy a Ticket to the Dance?" "Buy an Ad in the Yearbook?" "Buy a Ticket to the Play?" Ah, for the care-free days of a Freshman! Our yearbook staff was going great guns by this time and our prom was near. We finally decided on June 23, as a good night for our prom and we decided that the Astor Roof in New York, was the perfect setting for such a fabulous event. We then awaited with eager spirits our award assembly and graduation night. In all this confusion, it's a wonder that our outing was run so nicely! And when June 22 did arrive, everyone looked the greatest and there wasn't one make-up job that didn't have a tear spoiling it! Then came June 23, and our prom, the wonderful feeling of maturity and independence, and the reflective moments spent reminiscing over a perfectly wonderful four years at Barringer High.

News of Tomorrow

Many years have swiftly passed and it is the year 1975, the 20th reunion of the Barringer Class of '55. There are dim shadows before me and almost at once I recognize the familiar figures, once my classmates. Since our departure from Barringer, a great metamorphosis has taken place. The veil before my eyes has become serene, and I can see them, even as if the intervening years had not been.

Each one of us may entertain hopes for success as we see John Keating, who has completed the fastest (10 hour) non-stop flight around the world, and Joseph Chirico, the 55th President of the United States. As it came to pass I see Barringer's impressive building, and in the midst of a crowd, I see Ralph Accardo, a great architect, who has designed Barringer's new modern building. With him in Giacomo Mancini, a prominent dentist, and Robert Carida, one of the greatest scientists, with his assistants, Nick Melillo, and Titus Hewryk.

A large sight-seeing bus has just passed and as it stops, I notice the driver is Rose Marie Zizza. Descending from the bus is Marsha Eisen, president of Revlon Lipstick Industries, who is with her husband. Behind them, are Doris and Al Nittoli, (the former Doris Melillo), with their three sets of red-headed triplets. Their god-mother, Janice Carbone, has just been voted best dressed female secretary of 1975. Another prominent person is Mary Lou Pelletier, a dress designer. Just arriving are a group of teachers, among them Sandra Guarino, teaching at Nutley High School; Angela Bellino, a member of the faculty of Summit High School; and Marlene Puopolo, and Phyllis Bellarosa, who are teaching at Belleville Grammar School. Riding up in her Cadillac, the wealthy Virginia Morrone, president of the U.S. Bank, with her Southern husband are seen.

It seems there is a disturbance in the crowd. We distinguish Edward Burke and Daniel DeFilippo, who are delivering a discourse for the coming election. Their opponents Bob Salvatore and Howard Messner seem to be orating against their policy. A squad of police including Sergeant Petter Melillo, Frank Nappi, Gerald Panella, Angelo Stio, and Al Chianca rush to stop the noise. We also observe in this huge crowd Frank and Marie Capalbo, managers of the A & P supermarkets. Other notable persons are Louise Adessa, secretary to Otto Carchia, surgeon, and Diane Armento, art editor for the Herald Tribune. A sculptor is Vincent Acceturo who has sculptured a statue of George Washington and Mary Dalton, who has painted "Whistler's Mother" standing up. Everything is returning to normal, as the newest western band the "Yo Yo Yo Ling Wranglers," headed by Anthony Digilio and Pat DeMeola, begin to strike up a song. New additions to the band are Tom Culligan, Orlan Forcella, Alexander Melillo, Victor Greco and William D'Elia, who have just graduated from the State Penn. (Oh! I mean Penn State.)

As I stroll in the park, I see a super-atomic ten decker luxury liner, owned by Tom Belby, esquire, coming on to shore. Our reunion was to have taken place at the Natale mansion in Miami Beach, but our renowned scientists of the day, Sheldon Foreman and Phyllis Masallo, predicted a snow blizzard for Miami. Some of the first to step off the ship are Mary Ann Velardi, a band leader, Pat Marinello, who swam part of the way, (he swallowed half of the lake), Theresa Lupiano, a mechanic; Barbara Albanese, Catherine Hall, Sadie Mabray, and Ruth Mitchum, secretaries.

Entertaining the group, is Miss Mary Calcagno, acting out a part from her latest play, Ja Ya Ja, written by Virginia Sasso. Hearing a chorus of hearty greeting, everyone turns to see the All-American Football team, the captain being Mike Comune. Some of the players are Anthony Manochio, Ernie Haygood, Ray Przelomski, John Nicoletti, Louis Primamore, and Robert Derco. Following the chorus we see the No. 1 Orchestra of the U.S.A., led by Johnny Iannuzzi. Some of its members are Vicky Cuzzo, the famous accordion player, Gwen Marshall, a great French horn player, and Pat Cuccolo the young man with a horn. All of a sudden we hear a resounding splash. We rush to the porthole to see Anne Ilaria and Rosanne Carlucci, in the water. Angelo Ricca and Lewis Carrino become the men of the hour as they jump in to save them. Well, what do you know! Here comes class president Nick Visco paddling up in a canoe. Nick is kind of crowded in that little canoe, since he has seven of his gorgeous models with him from his art studios. Among the models are Lorna Bilcher, Josephine Piccininno, Sylvia Cardinale, Carol Butera, Edyth Armellino, Joan Hary, and Carol Tappeta.

Roars of laughter attract us to Anne Marie Astrosky and Pat Reese, replacements for Martin and Lewis. With them are Yvonne Werner, Elvira Negro, Liz Lisznyai, and Diane Stevens, four trapeze artists. We hear a loud-speaker, and hear press agent Vito Rallo, announcing that Dorothy Esposito and Alice Preuster have just made a successful debut at the Metropolitan Opera House, and Yvonne Statella, has been chosen as the Ambassador to France. Another interesting report we hear, is that Louis Rizzolo, who was the chief waste basket emptier at the U.N. building is now being promoted to chief put-out-the-fire man. Flash! Photographers Wesley Grover and Gordon McGill are snapping Elaine Palermo and Doreen Gasparino, noted ballet dancers, Pat Corona, rumba dancer, Eva Thomas and Carol Smith, mambo dancers, and Esther Mazzuca, ballroom instructor.

Suddenly I hear a horrible scream and all heads turn to its source. Mr. Ernest Viespoli (who still seems to maintain his status quo) has lit up one of his cigars from his factory, which apparently was a bee's hive, and a swarm of bees are scattering about. The men in white are arriving: John Gaynor, Paul Berens, and Edward Thoman, followed by two noted practitioners, Dr. Pat Kramer, and Dr. Donald Cece. It seems three psychiatrists are needed and we see in the crowd, Dr. Richard Slizza, Dr. Barbara Hecht, and Dr. Dolores Piceno. Mr. Viespoli's throat seems to be on fire, so John Cavan, a plumber for the sewerage system, is pouring vodka down his throat. After breathing some laughing-gas given to him by Beatrice Dwyer, who was chosen to laugh on the Inner Sanctum broadcast when the squeaky door opens, Mr. Viespoli, is slowly recuperating.

As I walk down the street, I see a restaurant owned by Rae Fabiano. It is nationally known as the "Eat and Run Restaurant." Working with her is the best pancake flopper, Pia Rossilli, and having a cup of coffee we see Betty Ann Carrino and Henrietta DiSessa, international news correspondents, Carol Lord and Joan Berardone, two happily married housewives, and Betty Williams, with her husband. Carrying a bottle of fruit flies each, five biologists, Robert Liptai, Doris Goodman, Emily Johnson, Kay McKenna, and Barbara McGonigle are followed by the baseball stars of the Milwaukee Braves, Pat Pagano, Angelo Bellino, and Fred Mancinelli, accompanied by their coach, Mike Maiorino. Beside Barringer is a hospital founded by Lois Cangiano; some of the nurses on her staff are Betty Lou Pearson, Barbara Gordon, Lorraine Stravach, Rose Vacchiano, Mercedes Martinez, and Barbara Von Dwinglo. Marian Tirico and Marion Jakway are two women doctors, who at present are treating a patient, Peggy Kerekes, who has fallen over the ironing board in her home. Other remarkable achievers are, Betty Ferguson, editor of the World Wide newspaper, her reporter, Carmella Sierchio, Mary Jo Cecere, a lawyer, and Thomas Forcella, the winner of the weight lifting championship at the Olympic games.

It is sunset, and a mutation has come over the spirit of my dreams; the veil has once more darkened. I find myself down the aisle at the Commencement exercises, and before me are my classmates, who will all strive to fulfill this prophecy.

Barringer's little theater.

Hail, rail, the gangs all here and Cumberlander hits paydirt.

The Big Blue Started the season with a bang, giving notice that we were out for many victories. Our line was superb, sparked by those "All City," linemen Forcella, Monochio and Steffanelli. The backfield, small but powerful, was led by our "All City" back Comune and Oliverie.

This Barringer team incurred the least number of penalties in the course of the season than many blue elevens before us. While displaying good sportsmanship and clean playing under the tutelage of the coaches Messers, Naporano, Capizinski and Parelli, we rolled up numerous victories. We emerged a 32-0 victor in the Central game. We also smashed Weequahic while on our way to five straight wins. Although we didn't win the turkey-day classic, we had the distinction of being the only team to completely smash a favored E. O. line wide open for an estimated gain of two hundred and fifty yards.

Coaches.

Mike Comune . . . Won city fame as a half back . . . Plenty of power. Tommy Forcella . . . Another member of the city team . . . Barringer's Mr. Football.

Tommy Forcella . . . Another member of the city team . . . Barringer's Mr. Football.

Jettie Cumberlander . . . Our plunging Fullback . . . Many a yard was gained by his drives.

Robert Robinson . . . One of our quickest halfbacks . . . Unlimited gridiron ability.

Anthony Manochio . . . All city guard . . . A big block in a big line.

Mike Maiorino . . . Effective End . . . Good for a quick start.

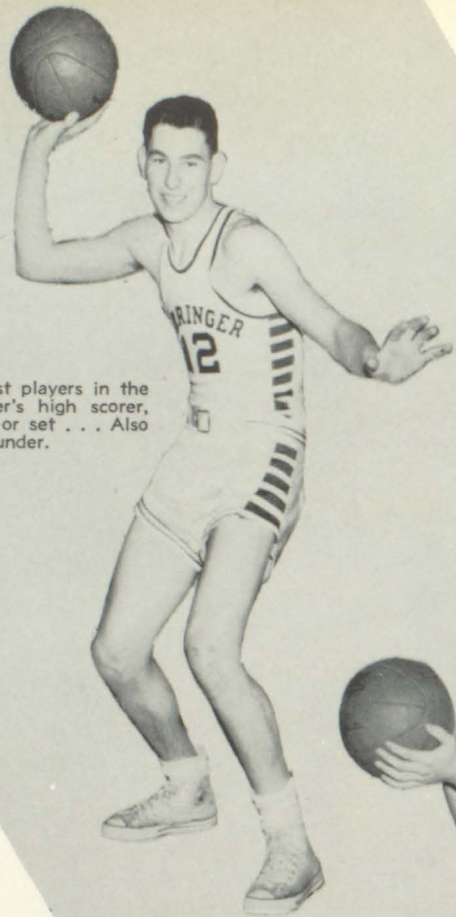

CAMERA SHY

Bill D'Elia . . . A firm block in a firm line . . . A good man on the field.

Basketball

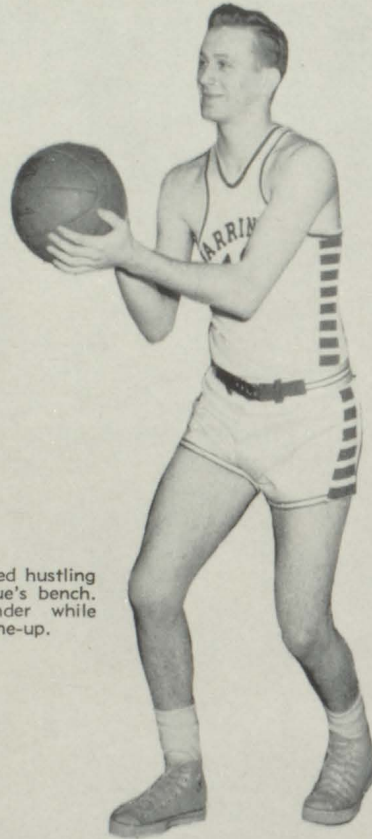

CAVAN

Johnny was one of the best players in the city league . . . Barringer's high scorer, mostly with his jump shot or set . . . Also a valuable rebounder.

DERCO

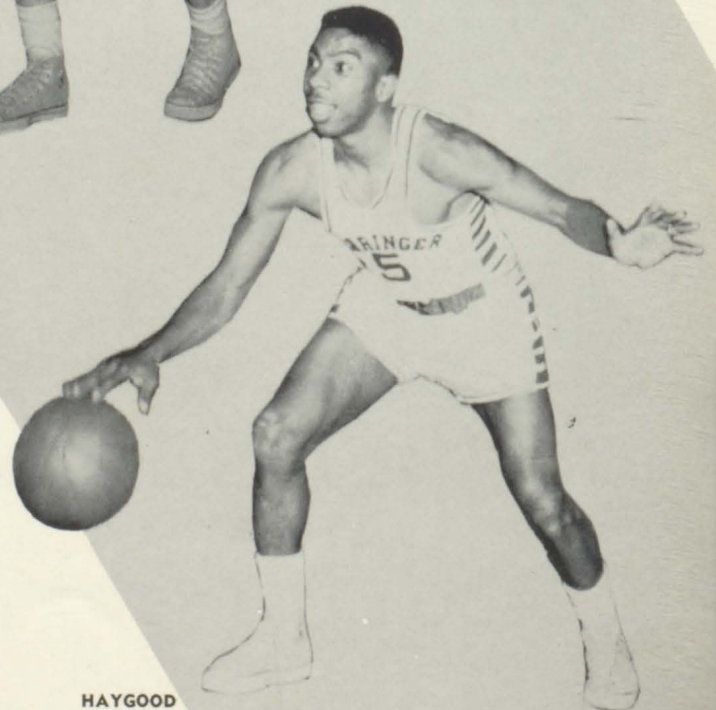

Bob . . . A guy who never stopped hustling . . . Was a mainstay of the Blue's bench. He showed a good one hander while rebounding when in the line-up.

Barringer again 'faced a problem which has plagued them in previous seasons, lack of height. Behind the able leadership of Coach Nerenberg, the Blue faced a rough season though good hustling and team spirit were prominent. Playing against such foes as Essex County has to offer is a task for any team and Barringer played well while winning four games. Though not a successful season, Barringer gained prominence by fine play.

HAYGOOD

Ernie . . . one of the fastest men in the city . . . did much of the Big Blue's scoring . . . Scored many layups due to his ballhawking and all around defensive ability.

THE TEAM

Where it goes, nobody knows.

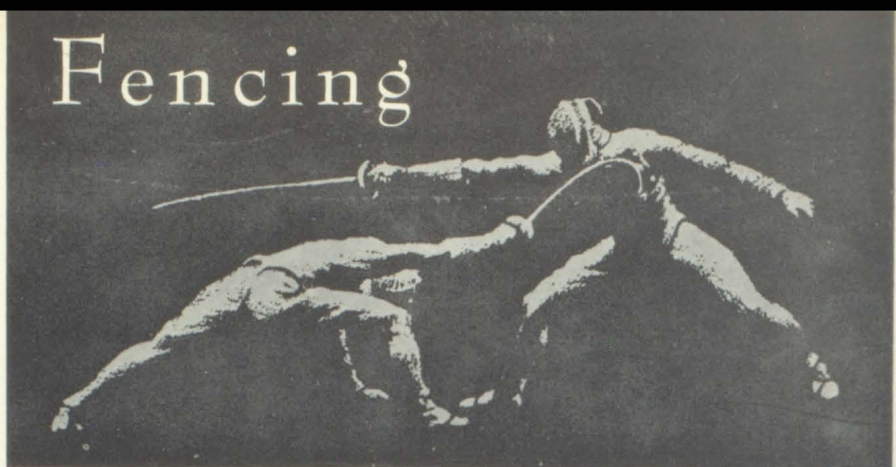

Let's talk it over, boys.

V. Libero Sibilia
Faculty Adviser

Barringer Fencers State Champions

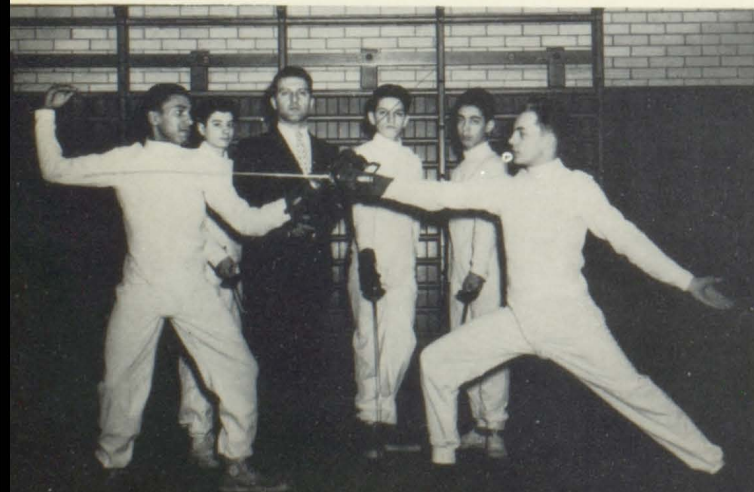

The Coach congratulates the Team Captain on a very successful season.

In accordance with tradition, the Barringer fencing team has captured another state title. Its record of nine wins and one loss has topped the State League.

The team was ably coached by a former Barringer fencing champion, Alan DeCicco, and was well counseled by its faculty adviser, Mr. V. L. Sibilia. The drill and scrimmages provided the necessary background and experience which led the team to the state title. The team was captained by Richard Slizza who received more than able assistance in the ranks from Jerry Johnson, Larry Manochio, Keith Picuri, and Alan Levine.

Barringer took its only defeat early in the season. After beating Dickinson High of Jersey City by a score of 6 to 3, the team lost to Lincoln High of Jersey City, 7-2. However, Barringer came back strong and defeated its next eight competitors by comfortable margins, the only close match being a 5 to 4 victory over Synder of Jersey City. In a return match with Lincoln, Barringer turned the tables and beat them 7 to 2. In the last match of the season, which was needed to secure the state title, a nervous Barringer team took the first five bouts to attain a final 7 to 2 victory. In this match the longest bout of the season was played as Jerry Johnson finally defeated his opponent after twenty minutes of fencing.

Track

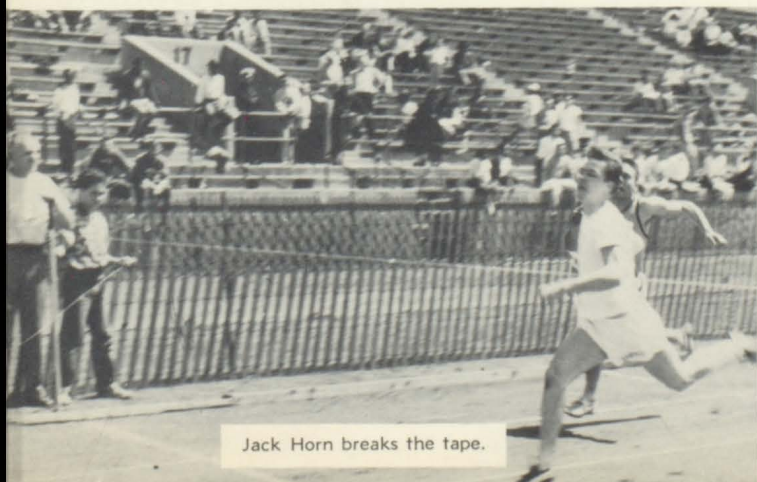

The team.

Barringer's track season was exceptionally brilliant. Four meets so far resulted in four victories and the fifth, the Newark High Schools Board of Education Invitation Meet including forty-five schools, resulted in third place, out of second by one point!

Outstanding in their consistent scoring ability as a team, under the able coaching of Mr. Naporano and Mr. Thomas, were: Jack Horn, the 100 and 220 yard dash; Mike Comune, low hurdles; Donald Hoggard, half mile; Major Brown, mile; E. Givens, high hurdles; Andy Pasqua and Bob Dominick, pole vaulters; Billy Malanga and Tom Forcella, shot put; Ernie Haygood, broad jump; Billy Malanga and Mike Comune, discus; and B. Humphries and Bob Carida, javelin.

A high place in the league plus victories over strong Nutley and East Orange was not accidental. Fine pitching led by Jackson, Buckworth, and Freda was reinforced by the consistent batting of George, Jeffries, Roberto, Coppola, De Trolio, and Albano. Outstanding in the field was DeMarzo, and in the infield Coppola and Albano. Spirit was fine this season.
